

The Gifford School
Yearbook
1978

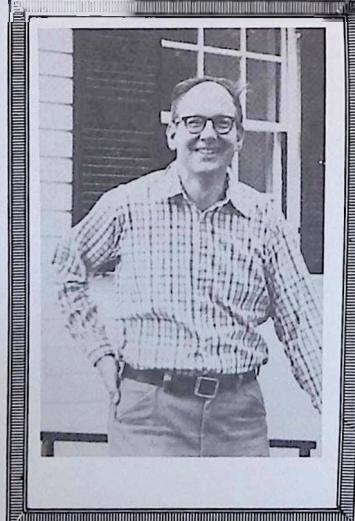

Over the years Frank Bequaert has been an integral part of The Gifford School. He has been involved in the School since its inception in 1964. Frank has not only been an active member of the Board of Directors, where he has served in various capacities from that of treasurer to his present capacity as the President of the Board, but also in 1973 he joined the staff for the year, so that he could gain a closer understanding of our program, as well as, to help and share in the growth and progress of our students.

During his time on the staff, Frank enriched the lives of our students and staff through his skills, knowledge, and interests which he shared with everyone in our program. Among his accomplishments in 1973, Frank taught photography and produced with our students the School's first yearbook; took students on camping trips and helped them to feel self-reliant, as well as, tutored students in math through the aid of a computer, which he got on loan from I.B.M.

While serving in the capacity of treasurer of the Board, Frank had succeeded in virtually eliminating the School's mortgage through his enormous efforts and hard work in fund raising. While more recently as President of the Board, he has actively increased the size of the Board, organizing it into standing committees, and increasing its efficiency.

Throughout the years, Frank has been one of the key people, since Mrs. Gifford, who has given the support and guidance needed in making the growth and future of the School possible. It is for his devotion and hard work that the people at The Gifford School would like to Dedicate the 1978 Yearbook to

Looking Forward

Once again, the Upper School Staff has worked closely with students in their move from The Gifford School to their communities in planning for continued education and vocational choice.

A number of students have shown the growth and maturity necessary to return to their public school systems, where they will finish their education and ultimately graduate.

We are happy to have been a part of their growth and achievement. We will miss them, each and every one.

Those transitioning to public schools and alternative education include:

Tony Brown, who left for an alternative program in May.

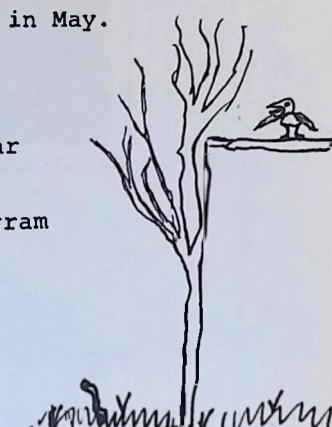

Bill Green, who will begin his senior year at Newton North High School.

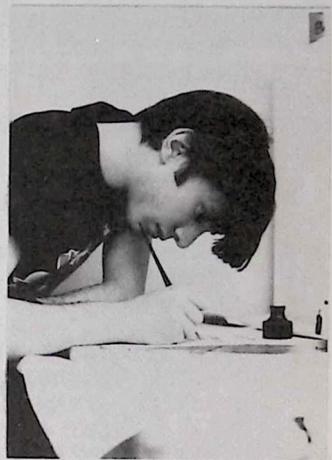

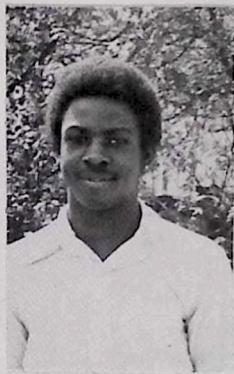

Andrew McMakin, who will begin his sophomore year at Arlington High School.

Tim Mighton, who will return to a full-time program at Millis High School.

Karen Oliver, who left for Falmouth High School earlier this year and will be a senior there.

Roger Purdy, who will enter Medford Vocational-Technical High School.

Upper School

A time to finish...a time to begin... a time to explore new careers...a time to begin a new life. Academics, sports,

Special Subjects

We would all like to take this opportunity to thank Mrs. Watson for her hard work and devotion to the starting of several exciting new programs in our kitchen. Among these programs are:

The Foods Program: for the first time this year we have a variety of lunches!...from soup, hot sandwiches, and fruit...to gourmet elaborate meals at Holiday times...Now, all this can't be done alone, so Mrs. Watson has lots of helpers. The Middle Schoolers get to practice some math besides cooking. The students help with the ordering and delivering and some help with cleaning up.

Foods Apprenticeship Program: This year Valerie Hill of the Upper School has taught cooking in the Lower School two days a week...Lots of exciting projects going on: pizza, cookies, cakes, sandwiches, pancakes, French toast. How successful! Val has become a great aide to the program! Many thanks, Val!

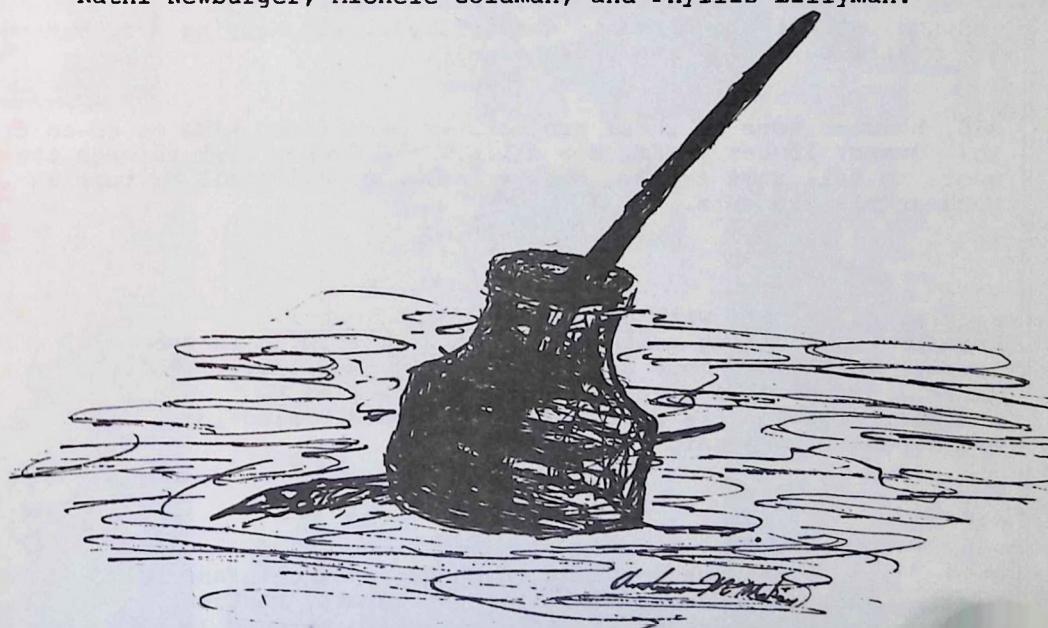

Maggie's Market: Yea! for Maggie's Market...still the most popular place in school on Wednesdays. Lots of learning goes on: Miss Mazzetti's class counts our money on Wednesday morning! Middle School students also help; we learn also about buying and selling, making change and banking!...mmmm...all the delicious odors of popcorn and hot dogs. The students do a great job in assisting Mrs. Watson.

Music...lots of singing in Lower School, and much listening to music, moving to it, and painting and drawing to it as well! Dana Welts strumming his guitar and Vinny and Jo Hannah leading sing-alongs! Marty playing Piano, with a growing number of students gathering round to join in singing...Mrs. Lillyman joining in too, as well as Nancy Foster and the cooking class!

Art...in Lower School, painting and drawing to music... collages...and papier mache masks: trying lots of new materials with help from Michele Goldman and Kathi Newburger, and lots of new group cooperation! In Middle and Upper Schools, a great many crafts projects... from leather key holders and wallets to belts and vests! ...learning about paperfolding and dyeing, to get interesting patterns: making prints...and printing on T-shirts... marbled papers for note papers...many posters, cartoons, collages and murals in the art room and in classrooms... Learning to build and stretch canvases...acrylic painting...and clay! always a most popular medium, with many beautiful and useful articles on the wheel. Lots of experimentation... sculpture and hand-building, too! With Fran Gardent, who left to have a baby, Janet Benson, Ronna Kaufman, Diana Frothingham, Patti Bouley, Susan Brefach, Holly Chaplin, Kathi Newburger, Michele Goldman, and Phyllis Lillyman.

Tools Shop...

nd tools, square rules
amps that light, propellers in flight elves for books, cutting boards for cooks ings sure can hop at that hand tools shop.

th that music playing, kids get hasty do some work with the Mystic Pastry and those boards of knotty pine leave with a project, feeling fine."

e've learned to cut straight, and file and drill e've learned that power shop promises bigger things still nd for all those projects built by kids big and small nd for two great years Dana thanks you all.

ower Shop...

orking together on skills and disciplines...learning to work ndividually and in teams...to see mass production from planning o completion: picnic tables, book cases, flower boxes...and any individual projects such as inlaid bowls, lamps of various esigns, athletic equipment, games, toys...and helping Mrs. Watson et stairs built for the greenhouse...

nd, between some of these projects we even found time to go on trips o: dumps, lumber yards, saw mills...and even a trek through the oods to fell some trees. Bob Markarian enjoying all of this as uch as his students.

pecial Activities with child care counselors...

reaming up exciting holiday skits and performing in them as ovable tough guys once again...the ping pong table...softball ames...swamp walks with Curt...mountain hikes... he Next Move Theatre's visit...wall murals...sledding...
ew faces...friendship...

Photography...student interest in photography outstanding!

Miss Benson, Miss Newburger giving photography to Lower, Middle, and Upper School students...getting to know 35mm single ens camera...black and white developing and enlarging... ne use of the darkroom! Students helping with yearbook once again.
lus, continued donations of film from Polaroid results in fun projects.

SPORTS

Most impressive year!...much learning and growth going on through organized athletic activities...students remembering skills learned in sports last year...and passed on this year by old students to new students in a sharing fashion...great team spirit and cooperation!

A year filled with many special team and individual highlights in Upper and Middle School activities...often displaying skill and good sportsmanship even when losing...but still having fun.

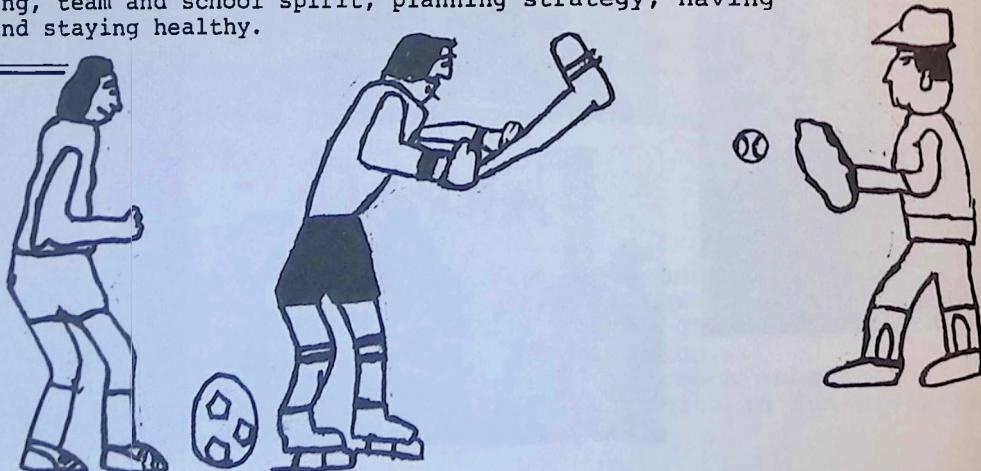

To recapture some of the highlights of the sport seasons:
The 3rd annual Varsity vs. Junior Varsity Fall Soccer game...
Varsity winning 6-2...entire staff watching a high level of skills and teamwork by all the students.

Winter sports included lots of street hockey on the basketball court, ping pong, some basketball and gym hockey...Upper School Varsity undefeated in gym hockey included: 7-1 victory over Willow Hill, and a last minute 8-7 victory over Farr Academy...with Bill Campbell making an incredible 9 goals in two games...David Spillane breaking school record in bowling for single string with a score of 124...and the Middle School goes on a ski trip in New Hampshire.

In the Spring softball challenges soccer as the most popular Gifford School sport!...with a high degree of participation of students from both Middle and Upper Schools...New backboards and rims rekindle interest in basketball...Mike gets a trampoline for the School...and Dave Mittell runs the Boston Marathon in a Gifford School jersey.

It is nice to see the old values and traditions hold strong--Sportsmanship, friendly competition, learning from losing, as well as, winning, team and school spirit, planning strategy, having fun and staying healthy.

Elinit our Guidance

Gifford is a special place...
All of us helping one another...working closely with teachers, students and their families...individually and in groups...social workers, art therapists, psychologists and psychiatrists...

In the fall, working as a support to students and their families...easing the way for students upon arrival at gifford...helping with adjusting to the program... and continuing in on-going progress throughout the year...

...a friendly chat while building a model together...an occasional meeting with parents, and parent groups...and making "getting to know you" collages, or a conference with the staff... or with a school system.

And, when it's time, helping with long-range plans and return to local school, or helping with continuing education and job planning.

We wish everyone a happy summer... and look forward to another September!

Poem for Parents about "Pot" *
(Self-esteem)

Paula Schneider

What, you may ask, is this talk about "pot"?
Are they trying to get me to be what I'm not?
At times we feel low, not knowing what to do Confused, inept, maybe angry, too.
That's when life and kids are getting out of hand
When the living room carpet feels like quicksand.

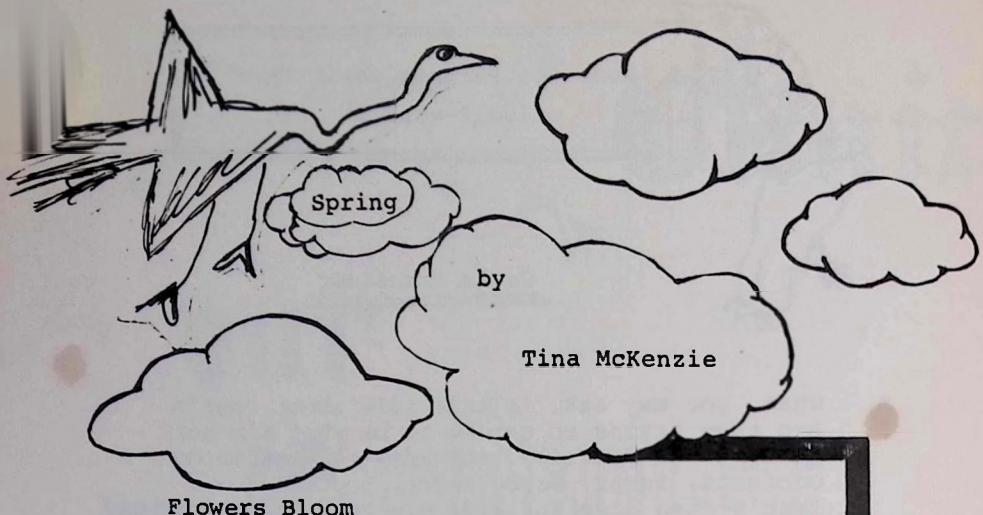

Now how did all this happen you may easily wonder
Was it I or my parents who created this blunder.
It probably started with the pressures they felt
They could not cope with what life dealt.
Feeling tired, angry, sad or mean
Could they smile at a baby or a child in his teens?
Certainly not as we entered school
Which was more "shoulds", and work and difficult rules.
If friends liked us there we were a sure bet
If not, we were in no way set.
Finally, we met the mate who felt right
Then children and pressure and we repeat the plight.

Now what can we do about this self-esteem
It still can be a realizable dream
We have the thoughts, the feelings and the power to grow
We can demonstrate our love so our children will know.
It will surely be hard -- a lot of work
But we can feel better, we need not shirk.

We'll try to hear what he wants to be
The goal is always competency
The message will always be their worth
A little sadness, a little mirth.
It will begin to get better toward the end
as we like ourselves better and begin to bend.

Flowers Bloom

and the Green Grass Shows.

The animals wake up.

The bears hunt for honey.

The Birds sing

and they hunt for worms.

The snow goes away.

But the sun still stays.

Butterflies come out.

You can wade your feet
in water.

No hot chocolate anymore.

But ice tea is good,

And a nice Cold Bath will do too.

Well now I have to go.

Bye.

Parents

We have survived the great blizzard of "78", and spring is in full bloom. Summer vacation is just around the corner, and parents and children everywhere await the last day of the school year with joyful apprehension.

This seems like an ideal time to make an assessment of what has been accomplished, and in spite of a fearsome winter, our parent organization had a very good year. I think it is safe to say that we have matured this last year, which is also our third year in existence. Parents and school faculty have indicated a genuine and supportive interest in all our activities and meetings.

The group discussion segments of our meetings where we parents share mutual concerns have been more organized, with a definite theme selected for each particular meeting. There has also been increased participation by a majority of the parents in attendance at meetings. Much of this can be attributed to our parent counselor-coordinator, Mrs. Paula Schneider, and the hard-working members of the committees who help to plan each meeting.

Our thanks to Mr. King for his generous donation of a set of beautiful pots and pans. We were able to have our first in-depth fund-raising endeavor which was quite successful. The money was donated to the School towards the purchase of a piano. This is an excellent opportunity to thank all of you for your participation in this effort. Let us hope that this is an indication of what our parents can jointly accomplish in the future in a similar enterprise.

A new slate of officers for next year was nominated and elected at the April meeting. They are as follows: sharing the Presidency, Thelma Berman and Jeannette McLellan; Vice-president, Cathy Greer; Secretary, Jane Nalwalk, who will also author the newsletter; Treasurer, Helen Glazier. To the officers and committees who worked so hard this year, my sincere gratitude. And, thanks to all those parents who contributed the "goodies" for each meeting making our coffee hour such a pleasant experience.

I've really enjoyed working with you, and I hope that next year sees many more parents attending the meetings. For any parent group to achieve beneficial goals, there must be a commitment made by everyone involved.

Have a happy summer. And, here's a parting thought.

There they go again,
Those children of ours.
Rushing home from school
To summer's leisure hours.
We'll greet them with a smiling face,
We'll never let them know,
That our vacation begins
When back to school they go.

Gifford moon

It was the year 3005 when electricity was made by a mysterious kind of chemical. Space ships were used instead of cars, and battery operated grounds were used instead of walking. Instead of cooking they pressed a certain kind of button for their meals, and the meals came out of a machine. They had very nice houses, parks, offices, and shopping centers. In their houses they had regular furniture and instead of having t.v.s they had this new t.v. The televisions were built into the livingroom wall. They had big screens and they had remote control buttons. The people had a choice of color or black and white, if they pressed a button. The televisions were 3D.

They had a happy life until one day there was a big fire. It took them days to get the fire under control. The fire did so much damage that a lot of inventions were destroyed. The only thing they had saved was the new t.v.s. And from that day on they had to live regular lives.

The moral is:
Never rely on too many things.
Always work hard.

The End.

In Appreciation

The students and staff of The Gifford School wish to express our gratitude to those individuals and organizations who have been so generous with their donations of goods and services throughout the year. You have made so much more possible for our program this year, and which will continue to affect our program many years to come.

Mrs. Nalwalk, thank you for the furniture.

In addition, we would like to thank the many people who work in the local Special Education Departments in the 26 communities that our students come from...for all your hard work and support that you give our students and our program over the year.

Spring 1978

by

David Spillane

After the Winter that was quite a disaster,
Comes the season of Spring, and it's coming much faster.

After a whole ton of snow, and plenty of plowers,
Spring is here, and with bunches of flowers.

The snow was as soft as laundry detergent powder,
Then came plenty of shelter, and plenty of chowder.

After a season that was out of reach,
I'd sure use a good tan down on the beach.

After a season that wasn't funny,
We all can head for somewhere nice and sunny.

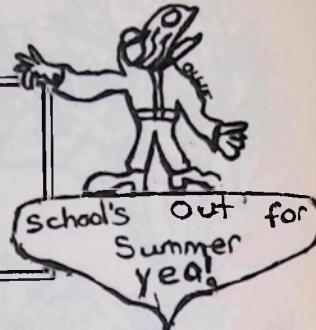

After the Winter that wasn't great,
Comes the joy of Spring 1978.
